INTERNATIONAL WOMEN’S CONFERENCE MISSION STATEMENT

The International Women’s Conference is the bridge to a better understanding of the Alcoholics Anonymous philosophy and way of life because of our special needs in sobriety as women. We as women members of Alcoholic Anonymous are survivors. We have found a way to obtain meaning, depth and responsibility in our lives. This came about out of desire, decision, determination and spiritual guidance. An elevated sense of belonging that is brought about by the special services and a special need provided by our Women’s Conference is our goal.

THE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The women on the Advisory Council provide support for the women involved in hosting an IWC conference in their city. The Advisory Council is the custodian of the Conference and its experience. Its fundamental purposes are:

- To ensure the continuity of the conference
- To provide guidance to the current Host Committees
- To provide guidance to cities who are bidding for the Conference
- To select future conference sites from bids offered at each year’s Conference
- To maintain the experience and material of past conferences through its archives

BID YEAR: PLANNING AND PRESENTING THE BID

Form an Exploratory Committee

- Before starting your bid planning process, it is a good idea to identify a small exploratory committee of two or three A.A. women who can help research and consider locations, make decisions and help get others involved.
- Hosting the conference in your city or region can be a great way to involve women in service.
- At a recent IWC conference it was estimated that more than 500 women did service work at the conference. A high level of willingness and interest is necessary.
- Once there is interest from the local AA community of women and a location or two have been identified, the bid planning process can begin.
- Begin to collect important information regarding the following criteria for inclusion in your bid proposal.

The Bid for the International Women's Conference is based on the six-point bid criteria:

- This criterion was established by the Advisory Council at the 2003 IWC in Seattle, Washington to ensure fair and equitable decision-making and prevent favoritism.
- The six points have been identified as key areas for the success of the conference.
- They are listed in alphabetical order because each is treated with equal importance in the evaluation process.
- The descriptions of the criteria are provided for informational purposes only and are by no means complete or absolute.
- At the Advisory Council meeting, each bid is evaluated and discussed one at a time. The Advisory Council members are asked to confine their comments to the strengths and weaknesses of each bid with regard to each of the 6-points.
- After discussion, each Advisory Council voting member is asked to rank bids in each of the six areas. This is done in writing using the same 6-point worksheet for each bid.

6-POINT CRITERIA

1. AIRPORT FACILITY

- a. Distance from the conference facility
- b. Cost of shuttle service
- c. Choice of airlines serving the Host City
- d. General cost of flying to the Host City
- e. Ease of reaching the Host City from other areas of the country

2. CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

- a. Experience of attending previous IWC's
- b. Experience of hosting other AA conferences
- c. Quality of letters of support from local women's groups
- d. Degree of balance and diversity in the Host Committee core members as it reflects the local AA community
- e. Experience of Host Committee members in AA Traditions and AA Service

3. FACILITY/HOTEL CONTRACTS

- a. Convenience of hotel to conference meeting rooms
- b. Room night commitments
- c. Food/beverage commitments
- d. Banquet seating requirements – capacity enough for 1000 women for dinner
- e. Possibilities to expand hotel or meeting room space
- f. Quality and diversity of meeting room styles

4. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

- a. Level of detail presented – does it demonstrate an awareness of fiscal responsibility
- b. Strength of contingency plans
- c. Budgets based on variable attendance levels
- d. Plans for disbursing funds following the conference

5. GEOGRAPHICAL DIVERSITY

- a. Climate
- b. Regional diversity
- c. First time in a new city

6. HOST CITY LOCATION

- a. Unique aspects of the Host City
- b. General impressions of the bidding city
- c. Other attractions near the Host City hotel or conference center
- d. Availability of other food choices in the area, hours open, low cost options
- e. Ability of bidding city to put on a good IWC for women in Alcoholics Anonymous

1. AIRPORT FACILITY

The following information should be collected and included in the bid proposal:

- What airlines serve your city?
- What is approximate cost for round trip from the east and west coast?
- How far is the airport from the hotel?
- What is the travel time?
- Does the hotel offer a shuttle to and from the airport? What is the fare?
- How often and between what times does the shuttle operate?
- What are the costs by taxi, Uber, or Lyft?
- Are there other modes of transportation to and from the airport and what is the fare?
- What parking is available at the airport and what is the rate?

The bid should answer these important questions:

- What are the airlines serving your city?
- What is the distance from the airport to hotel or conference center?
- What is the cost and time needed for transportation from airport to hotel or conference center?

2. CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

- Most conference committees begin with about five women.
- Members should be well versed in Traditions and Service Concepts.
- It is recommended that there be at least one member who has attended at least three IWC conferences and has at least five years of continuous sobriety.
- Ideally, at least some of the committee will be A. A. members with long-term sobriety and have A.A. service experience.
- Experience in hosting other A. A. conferences is beneficial.
- Members of the committee will represent the diversity of the local area.
- Once your host committee officers are confirmed, important documentation for each officer will be collected for inclusion in the bid proposal. Include the following:
 - a. Name
 - b. Length of sobriety
 - c. Service experience including service work on other conferences, positions held and size of conference(s).
 - d. Attendance at previous IWCs
 - e. Specific skills, qualifications and experience
 - f. IWC Council experience, if any
- Important skills and experience will include these:
 - Treasurer - Accounting and proficiency in QuickBooks program to develop the budget and all financial transactions.
 - Registration Chair - Will need information technology/computer skills to develop documents and ensure the smooth transfer of programs relating to registration
 - Hotel Chair - Will need contract negotiating skills for the hotel contracts.
 - Additionally, women with leadership as well as marketing experience will be beneficial.
- There are many ways to achieve involvement which can generate publicity for the conference and the bid. Consider holding IWC Bid fundraising events to pay for printing the bid proposals. 30 bid proposals need to be delivered to the IWC AC Chair or the AC Bid Chair at the conference hotel by Wednesday prior to the start of the conference in order to be considered. The cost of the bid proposals can easily be $100-$300 and your fundraising and events can help offset this expense.

3. FACILITY/HOTEL CONTRACTS

Before moving forward with the planning process, determine if there is a facility that would meet the IWC's basic requirements and that would be available the weekend of the conference.

The Bylaws state that the IWC must be held on a weekend in February as close as possible to February 14th. Approval from the Advisory Council is needed to change these dates.

Hotel and Conference Glossary:

Attrition. Rate of cancellations. Most hotel contracts specify that the conference must fulfill 80-90% of its room block. (Aim for 80% when negotiating.)

Breakouts. Commonly used to refer to the number of rooms used for concurrent meeting sessions.

European plan. No meals are included in the room rate.

Flat rate. Refers to a single group rate for sleeping rooms for all of your business. This rate may not include suites.

Group rates. Also known as net rates, refers to discounted room prices given to clients responsible for bringing in large pieces of business.

Master Account. The "tab" for the conference, arranged when contract is signed.

Room block. The number and type of rooms the hotel will hold in reserve for your conference.

Room pickup. The number of rooms actually used by your conference.

Rack rates. The hotel's official posted rates for sleeping rooms.

GENERAL HOTEL REQUIREMENTS

- Hotel should be a first-class facility, in an appropriate and safe location. It does not need to be a luxury type accommodation.
- Hotel should be willing to commit to a room block of at least 500 rooms per night.
- There should be at least one "Overflow Hotel" nearby, preferably within walking distance. These hotels should match the conference room rates.
- Hotel must guarantee that no other major conference or group will be in attendance simultaneously.
- Hotel must guarantee that no outside vendors will be allowed to function near any of the conference activities or meetings.
- Hotel must be capable of hosting a conference banquet for 1,000 and be willing to customize their banquet menu for IWC.
- Hotel/Conference Center must have a ballroom for main speaker meetings that seats 2,000 (theatre style) plus overflow space in another room.
- Hotel/Conference Center must have ample meeting rooms to accommodate 2,000 attendees for various breakout meetings simultaneously.

Facilities and Design

- Are hallways and lobby areas neat, clean, spacious, and safe?
- Is there an area to comfortably handle conference registration?
- Ask for permission to hang banners or welcoming signs in public areas?
- Are there enough elevators and stairways to comfortably move attendees?
- Are all areas accessible to the handicapped?
- Is the temperature in public areas comfortable?
- Is the lighting in all areas adequate?
- Are noise levels acceptable?
- Are all areas clean and fresh smelling?

Meeting Rooms

- What is the number of breakout rooms available (not including ballroom)?
- What is the total capacity of the breakout rooms?
- Can they accommodate approximately 2,000 attendees?

Collect data on each room:

Room Name	Capacity (Theatre Style)	Might be Used For
-----------	--------------------------	-------------------

- Are pens/pencils and notepads included for attendees?
- Is a speakers' podium and microphone included?
- Does the room have an in-room water station?
- Are temperature controls within the room?
- Are signs outside the room attached to the door, the walls or easel?

Banquet Room/Ballroom

- Room capacity (theatre style)?
- Can the ballroom hold up to 2,000 attendees?
- Is the banquet room able to host at least 1,000 participants?
- Are they willing to customize their menu to IWC needs?
- Does the room have a sound system and how is it controlled?
- Is there an extra charge for the podium or microphone?
- Does the room have audiovisual screens and if so, how many?
- What type of lighting and how is it controlled?
- Can a banner be hung or attached to walls?

Other Considerations

- Are they willing to agree to a Force Majeure clause?
- Does the hotel overbook?
- Is the hotel willing to ensure that no major conference will be in attendance simultaneously and that no outside vendors will be allowed to function near the conference activities?
- Are all major credit cards accepted?
- What are the minimum revenue requirements and timeline?
- Can room rates or menu prices be guaranteed?

- Are service charges, gratuities, or sales tax added to food and beverage prices? (Be mindful of these charges. This is usually shown as ++ in contract.)
- Does the facility offer complimentary coffee, breakfast or evening hors d'oeuvres?
- What additional charges can be expected for items such as table set-ups, maintenance/electrical assistance?
- Are there any plans for remodeling, construction, or management changes?

NEGOTIATING THE CONTRACT

Based on the results of the site visit, choose the facility that best meets the IWC requirements. Now begin the negotiations to determine the terms of the agreement.

DO NOT SIGN A CONTRACT.

- It is the bid committee's responsibility to negotiate terms and make a bid based on those terms.
- The AC Chair and the Host City Committee Chair will sign the contract once bid is won (also called a Letter of Agreement).
- The hotel may want to know about the IWC and the locations of the last three conferences. They can be provided with the information on the cities, total attendance and meal participation (see Past Conference History)
- Everything is negotiable. Understand you do not have to accept the first offer they make.

Room Block

- Most hotels will provide the use of meeting rooms and ballroom in exchange for selling a certain number of rooms (the room block) and a certain amount of food and beverage.
- It is in the hotel's best interest to have those numbers as high as possible and in your best interest to keep them low, because if a conference does not meet its room or food/beverage commitment, it could end up having to pay for use of the meeting rooms and other facilities.
- One way to help ensure that the room block is met is to have the hotel agree to charge a non-refundable one-night deposit when taking the reservation.
- The hotel will want to know how many rooms the IWC is willing to guarantee and how many rooms it will be obliged to hold at the conference rate. Wait to finalize the room block until the bid is awarded to your city, but it is a good idea to make sure the hotel would be able to accommodate the IWC's needs. An example of a room block commitment when starting negotiations is shown below:

Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday	Total
10	150	500	500	10	1170

- Often this will be increased as more women register for the conference.

Room Rate

To keep the IWC affordable, keep hotel rooms rates as close to $150-$190 per night as possible. The hotel may not be able to give an exact rate, but they will be able to provide the current going rate (either the rack rate or a group discount rate) and guarantee that the price will not go up by more than a certain percentage.

Coffee

- Coffee can be a very big expense and the price can be negotiated and locked in ahead of time.
- Coffee can be served all day or restricted to certain times of the day to manage the costs.
- Be aware that hot water for tea is often charged at the same rate as coffee.

Food and Beverage

- Consider whether to offer three meals (Friday dinner, Saturday dinner and Sunday brunch) or two (Saturday dinner and Sunday brunch).
- Negotiate a cost or range of prices for each meal; the menu can be decided later.
- Are service charges, gratuities, or sales tax added to food and beverage prices? (Be mindful of these charges. This is usually shown as ++ in contract.)

Audio/Visual (AV)

- Audio and visual can be quite expensive. Negotiate with the hotel to offer this as a free service or reduced charge.
- If using an AA taping company, they have been allowed to set up microphones in each breakout room, making it unnecessary for the conference to pay the hotel for that service.
- Check if the hotel charges a fee if using an outside AV or taping company.
- It is not mandatory to tape the breakout sessions.

Telecommunications

- Hotel telecommunications (phone and internet lines) can be quite expensive. Many IWC Host committees have chosen to not use this service at the hotel during the conference. Many hotels now offer Wi-Fi for free or an additional charge; please plan accordingly.

Force Majeure/Impossible Clause (also known as uncontrollable events or acts of God)

- You will need to ask for this clause, which allows you to cancel the conference for acts of God, war, government regulation, disaster, strikes, civil disorder, curtailment of transportation facilities, or other emergencies that would make it inadvisable, illegal, or impossible for either party to perform their obligations under this agreement.

4. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

OVERVIEW

- The conference must be self-supporting.
- The Treasurer should be identified in the Exploratory Committee and must have QuickBooks knowledge. All accounts for the conference are kept in QuickBooks.
- IWC is not financially responsible for IWC Host City conference debts.
- Each year’s conference operates as a separate entity and must cover its own expenses.
- Each Host City receives seed money from prior conferences.
- Each Host City must provide seed money to the conference that follows.
- In the event there is a surplus of funds at the end of the Conference, a minimum of 20% will be given to the Advisory Council before any other distributions are made.
- The bid proposal must include a budget in a format provided in the FINANCIAL FORMS section.
- The bid proposal must demonstrate financial autonomy and responsibility in accordance with AA traditions.
- The Host Committee must provide a Contingency Plan should a deficit occur.

BUDGETING

- Prepare budgets that include all known and estimated income and expenses. Include more than one budget. (1,500, 2,000, and 2,500 attendees or appropriate numbers for your city)
- Set the registration fee. (The Advisory Council approves the registration fee.)
- Budget for seed money.
- Budget for the annual IWC Advisory Council allocation. This includes operating funds and technology expenses. The amount is determined each year by budgeting for the following year’s AC’s expenses.
- Review the proposed budget with the AC Bid Chair and AC Treasurer.
- Host Committee Treasurer should work closely with AC Treasurer.
- The IWC follows all AA Traditions, including Tradition 7. As we are self-supporting through our own contributions, therefore we do not accept outside contributions.

Income:	$2,000	Planning year seed money	*estimate
	$8,000	Conference year seed money
	$ xxx	Fundraising activities income
Expenses:	$8,000	Seed money for the next year Host City
	$2,000	Seed money for the future “2 nd year out” Host City
	$4,800	IWC Advisory Council operating fund (plus up to 20% increase)
	$1,500*	Reimburse for registration platform/software & website costs.
	$ 500	Annual website maintenance (any changes made mid-year by Host City will be extra.)
	$1,000*	One million-dollar liability insurance policy for the conference.
	$ 500*	Funds to pay for site visit by the IWC AC Chair
	$ xxx	All estimated expenses (tours, raffles, souvenirs, food, AV expenses etc.)

5. GEOGRAPHICAL DIVERSITY

- What are the average temperatures in February in the Host City region?
- Highlight regional diversity. What makes this city different?
- What geographic attractions are nearby?
- Would this be a first time to host in this city? If not, when was it hosted?

6. HOST CITY

Share the unique aspects and attractions of the Host City.

- The hotel, convention bureau, or visitor's bureau can be an asset in highlighting the city.
- What attractions are nearby? Is transportation necessary and if so, is it available?
- What restaurants and coffee shops are within walking distance of hotel, and what type of cuisine and range of prices?
- Is retail shopping nearby?
- What modes of transportation are available in your city, bus, train, etc. and what are the costs?

Gather data on different tours that can be offered.

- Some IWC Host Cities organize tours on their own and budget for the income and expense, however many cities select a local tour operator to organize 2-4 tours.
- Identify recommended tours and cost per person.
- Decisions don't need to be made to submit the bid, but options available should be identified.

Share information about the local AA community.

- Identify number of local AA groups, especially women's groups or those with strong involvement from AA women.
- Identify involvement of local women in general service or other twelve-step work.
- Identify women who have experience with putting on conferences.
- Identify women who have local or regional attendance at the IWC. (Both high and low attendance can be helpful for a bid. Areas with strong attendance have a solid base of support, while areas of low attendance at the IWC can help bring new women to our conference.)

Collect letters of support.

- Many successful bids have included letters of support from AA groups, the hotel or conference center, local convention bureau, intergroup office, and/or district committee.
- If women from your local AA community sign a petition endorsing the IWC bid, please have them sign just their first name, last initial and sobriety

FINAL BID PROPOSAL AND BID PRESENTATION

GENERAL INFORMATION AND GUIDELINES

- Once an agreement with the hotel or conference center has been negotiated and the information on the 6-Point criteria has been assembled, the bid proposal can be presented.
- Information in the Bid Proposal must be clear and succinct. Do not clutter it up with a lot of glossy travel brochures as they will not help your bid but may make it harder for the Advisory Council to evaluate.
- Lobbying members of the Advisory Council is not appropriate; however, they may be contacted for information or referrals. Your main contact with the IWC Advisory Council should be with the Bid Chair or the Bid Co Chair.
- Past Conference Chairs can be contacted for help or advice in preparing the bid. Names and contact information will be provided upon request.
- Send a draft of the bid proposal to the Bid Chair, Bid Co Chair and the AC Chair by November 15th for review. The bid draft will be reviewed and recommendations sent by the end of December. Finalize the bid based on those recommendations.
- Deliver 30 Bid Proposals to the attention of the IWC AC Chair or the Bid Chair no later than Wednesday evening of the conference.
- It is suggested that a commercial package delivery service be used such as UPS, FedEx, etc., as it may be very inconvenient to carry so many in one's luggage. If using a package delivery service, contact the hotel for their correct delivery address.
- Be sure to allow enough time for delivery, as bid proposals that do not arrive by Wednesday evening cannot be considered.
- After sending the bid proposals, please email or call the AC Bid Chair with your shipping arrangements. Be sure to include:
 1. The name of the shipping company with expected delivery date and tracking number.
 2. Please also include a cell phone number or hotel room number in case there are any questions.
- Another option is to prepare the presentation for printing and compilation in the city where the bid is presented.

BID PRESENTATION – WHAT TO EXPECT

- The bid presentations occur on Saturday morning during the conference. Bid presentations will be made in random order. Straws will be drawn on Saturday morning to determine the order of the presentations.
- The bid presentations generally occur in one of the larger meeting rooms and are open to any interested IWC attendees. IWC Advisory Council members, former IWC host committee members and other bidding cities or cities planning to bid in the future will be in attendance. Check the conference program for time and location.

- Fifteen minutes is allowed for presentations about how this bid meets the 6-Point Criteria. Props or computer technology can be used, although it is better to keep it simple, explaining why the IWC should be held in this city and why this bid is a good bid.
- After each presentation the Advisory Council members will have the opportunity to ask questions. If time allows others in attendance will also ask questions.
- After all the bid presentations, the IWC Advisory Council will meet privately and review all bids and award the bid.

THE WINNING BID

- The announcement of the winning bid will be made at the Saturday night speaker meeting, at which point the winning bid committee will be asked to stand and be introduced.
- The chair and other members of the winning bid committee will need to meet with the Advisory Council on Sunday directly following the Sunday morning speaker meeting. The meeting location will be determined by the AC Chair.
- As the newly elected Host City, the duties and responsibilities begin now. Please see the second section of the book titled: "Conference Year 1: Planning the Conference."

THE BID IS NOT AWARDED TO YOUR CITY

- Only one city can be selected at a time. The Advisory Council understands that it is very disappointing if your city is not selected but do not be discouraged!
- KEEP COMING BACK and present a bid again next year.
- There are many factors within the 6-Point Criteria which affect the selection process.
- Those cities not awarded will be invited to meet with the Advisory Council on Saturday evening after the Speaker Meeting to review results and answer questions.
- At the close of the conference, the AC Bid Chair will be available to answer questions, give clarifications or make suggestions.

CONFERENCE YEAR 1: PLANNING

- The IWC Advisory Council is available to assist with any concerns with the planning before and during the conference.

Areas of Responsibility of the IWC Host City Committee

Each IWC Host Committee is autonomous and has full responsibility for overseeing the successful planning and execution of a successful conference. You may organize your committees and areas of responsibility in any way that works for your circumstances.

Some conferences have had a two-tiered committee structure, with a “core committee” and “general committee.” In smaller cities, there are generally fewer committee members and it may not make sense to have two different groups.

A copy of the IWC Host City organizational structure chart should be sent to the AC Chair.

Printing and Mailings

The mailing list is the property of the IWC Advisory Council. The IWC Advisory Council will release the list to each IWC Host Committee to be used for IWC mailing purposes. In order to protect the integrity of the IWC attendees, under no circumstances is the mailing list to be copied, loaned or sold to any other entities. Requests for the list will be referred to the IWC AC Technology Chair.

Microsoft Excel is the official software for managing the mailing list of the IWC. DO NOT MERGE the IWC mailing list with any other database or software.

The IWC Host Committee updates the mailing list each year. In general, names are removed when “return to sender” occurs and/or not attending for 3 years. Names are added for first-time attendees and whenever change of address occurs.

Since the IWC is an annual special event that moves from state-to-state and country-to-country, each IWC Host Committee will determine its method of mailing. The US Postal Service may have restrictions for bulk mailing for non-profit organizations. This regulation is interpreted differently in various states and other countries may have similar laws.

Please check with your community Post Office regarding bulk mailing PRIOR to printing out any flyers or labels. The Post Office may require seeing the flyer, the return address and the amounts being mailed in order to provide the non-profit rate for mailing.

What is the IWC Advisory Council?

Because the IWC occurs in a different location each year, it is necessary to have an IWC Advisory Council to select and facilitate the transfer from one city to the next. This Council has approximately 32 members: 18 are Regional Representatives (2 from each of the six Regions in the USA, 2 from each of the Canadian Regions and 2 International Representatives); 9 are Alternate Representatives (1 from each Region); Chairs from the last two IWC's, the Current and Past IWC Advisory Council Chairs, and AC Treasurer. The elected Regional Representatives are the only voting members of the IWC Advisory Council.

Requirements for IWC Advisory Council Membership

The requirements for IWC Advisory Council Membership as a representative are:

1. Five (5) years of continuous sobriety
2. Previous attendance at three (3) International Women's Conferences
3. Willingness and time to be of service and fulfill the obligation of the job.
4. A representative must be able to attend all of the annual IWC Advisory Council Meetings during the IWC for three years.
5. An alternate representative must be able to attend the IWC Advisory Council meeting for one year.

How Can I Become an Advisory Council Member?

IWC Advisory Council members are elected by those attending the IWC Regional Meetings on Friday. During the Regional meeting, it will be determined what positions are rotating out of the Council for that region and whether a voting Representative or an Alternate Representative is needed. In order to serve on the Council one must meet the requirements for the position, which will be explained further at the meeting, and be willing to fulfill the commitment of one or three years. Those interested will be asked to speak to their qualifications. A vote will be taken by using either the Third Legacy process or the simple majority voting method, handwritten ballot or raised hand, based on the group conscience of that Region.

How Can I Bring an IWC to my City?

Attend both the Friday meeting on "How to Make a Bid for IWC" located in room number xxx at xx:00 p.m. and on Saturday for the Bid Presentations located in room number xxx from 8:00am-10:00 am. REGISTRATION STATISTICS AND ROOM BLOCKS

The following charts are intended to provide valuable information to assist a Host City in planning for banquets, tour capacities and purchases of souvenir items.

One of the biggest challenges in hosting the IWC is the difficulty in projecting the final totals for the different categories when the quantities change dramatically in the final weeks before the event.

This information can also be used to project revenue flows from the various categories of conference sales to help the Host City meet operating expenses incurred during the months leading up to the event.
